Good statements:

- I hope that in applying for a business degree at your university, I will be able to utilise all of the skills I have learned in my education so far, as well as my extra-curricular activities in order to achieve the best result possible and to get the most out of the course. I am keen to get involved as much as possible in university life, and hope that I will make a positive contribution to the course.

Inspiring tomorrow’s professionals
I went onto college where I played an active role on the student council, wrote articles for the weekly paper and was nominated by my tutors to take part in the peer mentoring scheme. Being committed to all of these activities has enriched my learning experience and allowed me to attain new skills and attributions such as teamwork, independence and self belief. Studying a Business Management course will give me the opportunity to develop my knowledge and skills and gain a broader spectrum of choice when it comes to deciding on a career path.
Poor statements

- I have chosen Business and management because it was my goal since I was young. Doing business was an inspiration for me because I have seen good career opportunities that can potentially be for me and also it's something interesting for me to do and I have seen other role models who have been successful with it.
• I am the perfect candidate to attain a qualification in 'Business and Management'. I am a motivated individual and am certain that I will work to my full potential in order to gain a successful future in the world of finance.
Tutor’s statements

• Very valuable judgement as you can comment on academic ability in relation to HE.

• Better than a personal reference from an employer or family acquaintance.

• Really important if a student falls below the offer.
• References may talk about the type of institution, this gives a background to their education.

• The best references show that the tutor knows the student as an individual.

• Predicted grades are a helpful indicator.
