BUSINESS LEARNING DEVELOPMENT

‘..prepare for success’ is very helpful to ... international students, because of this, we can notice the differences between different academic cultures. Adapting my thinking to the new conditions is indeed essential to me. In the future, I will focus on how to use the knowledge and how to show my own perspective, developing my critical thinking skills.’

‘Before reading these tips and resources, I felt confused about learning in UK rather than in our own country. So I have read almost everything about the learning method on the website and do many relevant exercises as well.’
