BUSINESS LEARNING DEVELOPMENT

‘..prepare for success’ is very helpful to … international students, because of this, we can notice the differences between different academic cultures. Adapting my thinking to the new conditions is indeed essential to me. In the future, I will focus on how to use the knowledge and how to show my own perspective, developing my critical thinking skills.’

‘Before reading these tips and resources, I felt confused about learning in UK rather than in our own country. So I have read almost everything about the learning method on the website and do many relevant exercises as well.’
