WHY LINKEDIN FOR FASHION & TEXTILES AT HUDDERSFIELD?

- 3 areas of focus in building a Fashion & Textiles Linked-in community:
  - Develop a professional identity and make and maintain contacts
  - Discover new opportunities
  - (...and be discovered – we all look up people online!)
  - Learn and share – news, inspiration and insights

What you know + Who you know = OPPORTUNITY Career & Future
LINKEDIN: STUDENTS’ VIEW

- Social media offers connectivity and empowerment
- Linked in – possibly not the obvious – go to / favoured social platform for young professionals – yet!
- Barriers are education – “business”, “professional” – i.e. not very appealing initially to creatives, encourage links to blog or e-portfolio
- Plus: “… but don’t I need to have a job first ?”
  - Ensure that embedded skills development (from the module LO’s) are made apparent,
- Significant and on-going time investment needed coupled with overcoming the fear of putting yourself out there through confidence in attributes / abilities (LinkedIn measures “profile strength” from 0-100%)
- Challenge is to make our alumni network accessible, easy and attractive
AN INTRODUCTION TO LINKEDIN

- Introduction then hands-on introduction to LinkedIn
- Developing a good LinkedIn profile – start term 1 / year 1
- Researching Companies
- Developing your networks – the alumni tool
- Finding jobs and internships – LinkedIn jobs
BUILDING A NETWORK OF CONNECTIONS

- Part of 100% profile is 50 connections i.e. without 50 not on the radar
- LinkedIn’s algorithms and data mining make it easier
  - People on your course
  - Other people you may know
  - Import contacts
- Groups - a great way to find interests and connections
CONVERSATIONS AND JOBS

- Activity needed – 1 post week minimum
  - Next project stage establish a schedule of alumni guest posts
- Conversations v posts
  - News, reports, events
  - Start with a question – needs a hook to start conversation or is just a repository
  - Next project stage – recognising barriers to posting and participation
- Jobs

Fashion in a post Brexit 2017

It is important to consider the implications of a hard or soft Brexit for the future of our industry. Read more from BoF here:

After six months of uncertainty, BoF examines the challenges facing fashion as the UK government carves out a Brexit strategy.

Final year

Hi everyone in final year, I hope its going well! I know this time of year is really tough but you will get through it. Time will fly between now and summer so make the most of it. For those of you who are stressing about finding jobs I would say give everything you’ve got to your assignments and don’t panic about finding a job if you’ve not already secured something. There’s plenty of time for that once you hand in your Final Major Project. If you’re confused about what you want to get into once you’re finished I would say don’t limit your options and look for something that you’ll enjoy! Good luck with everything! Jo Conlon Show less

STUDENT FEEDBACK …SO FAR

- Great way to make contact with external contacts
  - Guest lecturers invited to join and post (not a closed group), students then likely to ask follow up questions
- Recruiters using social media to draw up short-lists – important to recognise this and to showcase your work with links to e-portfolio or blog or website
- Opportunity to be found – LinkedIn forwards relevant jobs to you
- Can use LinkedIn profile to directly import CV onto job websites
- Peer learning appreciated:
  - Demo how others are linking it to their e-portfolio or blog
  - Demo how others used it for primary research contacts
  - Share success stories
- Needed to remind students to change settings to get notification updates – otherwise “get’s lost”
LinkedIn Series from University of Leeds Careers Centre, a series of short screencasts outlining the various ways you can use LinkedIn and tips to get the most out of it. https://www.youtube.com/playlist?list=PLUL_viKVCUyDNsQQExaFwXovXkx3izBU
