

The Game of Open Access

START
HERE

Take an OA card

Your Head of Department says you need to publish at least one article by the end of term - go back one space!

Writing retreat! You make great progress on your article - go forward one space!

Take an OA card

Waiting for inter-library loans to arrive for your literature review - miss a turn!

You are invited to speak at a conference in Hawaii - have another go!

Take an OA card

Transcribing interviews takes you 20 hours - go back a space!

You find articles for your literature review for free on unpaywall.org. Go forward one space!

Take an OA card

You accidentally delete all your survey data! Go back one space.

You boost your profile by setting up an ORCID ID. Go forward one space.

Take an OA card

Your article is accepted by a top tier peer reviewed journal - go forward two spaces.

The Library pays your article processing charges! Go forward one space.

Take an OA card

You miss the deadline for final corrections - go back a space!

You submit the author accepted manuscript to the Repository - move forward one space!

CONGRATULATIONS!
You have published your OA article!