The fascination with embellishment and fashion detailing is that it is a synthesis of skills which are then applied to a specific fashion concept. The challenge is matching the concept with an imaginative approach to materials.