University of Huddersfield Repository

Cameron, Derek

Unravelling the complexity of organizational and occupational culture through an exploration of eight cultural schools: a case study of chefs working in luxury hotels and restaurants

Original Citation

Cameron, Derek (2009) Unravelling the complexity of organizational and occupational culture through an exploration of eight cultural schools: a case study of chefs working in luxury hotels and restaurants. In: 18th CHME Annual Hospitality Research Conference, 13-15 May 2009, University of Brighton. (Unpublished)

This version is available at http://eprints.hud.ac.uk/id/eprint/8523/

CHME2009 Conference Report
Best papers and associated journals

Stream 1 - Critical and Cultural Studies in Hospitality
Tourism and Hospitality Research: Professor Andrew Lockwood, Editor

Author(s)	Paper Title	No.
Cameron, Derek	Unravelling the complexity of organizational and occupational culture through an exploration of eight cultural schools: A case study of chefs working in luxury hotels and restaurants	25
Grzinic, Jasmina; Dujmovic, Mauro; Vitasovic; Aljosa	Changing world of tourism	7
Janta, Hania; Lugosi, Peter; Ladkin, Adele	Hospitality employment as co-created knowledge: Language development and work-based learning among Polish migrants	43
Lugosi, Peter	Antipodeans for the afternoon: Mobilising identities in the production of hospitality	10

Stream 3 - Developments in applied hospitality management research
Services Industry Journal: Professor Gary Akehurst, Editor

Author(s)	Paper Title	No.
Jenkins, Andrew	Older' hotel employees' perceptions of workplace equality in the UK and Ireland	20
Promsivapallop, Pornpissanu; Jones, Peter; Roper, Angela	Factors influencing hotel outsourcing decisions in Thailand: Modifications to the Transaction Cost Economics approach	35
Sobaih, Abu Elnasr; Coleman, Philip; Ritchie, Caroline; Jones, Eleri	Part-time restaurant employee perceptions of management practices: An empirical investigation	26
Lashley, Conrad	Employing students in hospitality operations: observations from a study in Nottingham	4

Stream 4 - Research and practice in teaching, learning and assessment
Journal of Hospitality, Leisure, Sport & Tourism Education (JoHLSTE):
Prof John Tribe and Hospitality, Chair of Editorial Board
Prof David Litteljohn, Subject Editor

Author(s)	Paper Title	No.
Barron, Paul; Gourlay, Lesley; and Gannon-Leary, Pat	Dealing with increasing numbers of international students: Initial findings from staff at two universities in the UK	23
Brookes, Maureen	The potential of podcasting for formative feedback	13
Platenkamp, Vincent; Portegeis, Ariane; de Haan, Theo	Knowledge production in tourism: Contextual learning processes in destination studies	8

Emerald Award for best development paper from a new researcher
Emerald Group Publishing Limited

Author(s)	Paper Title	No.
Stacy Roche	The social identity of 'older' workers in the 'stigmatised' restaurant industry: A social constructionism approach.	19